

Ewhurst Park

CORPORATE

RECONNECTING WITH FOCUS,
LAND AND IDEAS

WELCOME TO EWHURST PARK

Set within 925 acres of Hampshire countryside, Ewhurst Park offers a rare environment for thinking differently.

Shaped by history and now defined by regeneration, the estate provides a setting far removed from the pace and distraction of everyday working life. Here, space is not just physical — it is mental.

From leadership gatherings and strategy days to creative off-sites and team retreats, Ewhurst Park invites businesses to step away from routine and into a more focused, considered way of working.

This is not a conventional venue.

It is a place to pause, align, and move forward with clarity.

OUR COMMITMENT TO NATURE

Every choice we make considers our impact — today and for generations to come — embracing better, more natural ways of living, celebrating, and being.

The land is being carefully restored for biodiversity, soil health and responsible farming, with a long-term commitment to working with nature rather than against it. Woodland is protected, habitats are re-established and the estate continues to evolve with sustainability at its core.

At Ewhurst, food is part of the story. Produce is grown within our market garden and orchard, honey gathered from estate hives, and ingredients sourced thoughtfully from trusted local partners.

Our menus reflect the seasons and the landscape from which they come.

OUR ETHOS

A LIVING ESTATE, SHAPED BY A REGENERATIVE VISION

OUR LIVING LEGACY

- Former arable land restored to species-rich meadows through conservation grazing with traditional English breeds
- We propagate trees across the estate to capture carbon and enhance the landscape.
- Our Certified Organic Market Garden grows seasonal produce and floristry using no-dig principles — with the soil at the heart of everything we do.
- Wood from our Ash tress powers our biomass system, reducing reliance on fossil fuels and keeping energy circular.
- Part of a nationwide beaver reintroduction program
- Winners of a Nature Recovery Award 2025

A DIFFERENT KIND OF WORKING ENVIRONMENT

SPACE TO THINK, ROOM TO CONNECT

From the moment you arrive, the pace shifts.

Light-filled rooms overlook open parkland, while quiet corners allow for focused discussion. Shared spaces encourage collaboration, with the flexibility to move naturally between structured sessions and informal conversation.

There are no competing events, no unnecessary interruptions — just a calm, private environment designed for productive time together.

THE ESTATE HOUSE

A PRIVATE SETTING FOR FOCUSED GATHERINGS

The Estate House offers an exclusive and refined setting for corporate use.

Beautifully restored, it combines understated luxury with a sense of comfort and ease. Rooms can be arranged for meetings, workshops or informal discussions, allowing teams to move seamlessly between structured sessions and more relaxed conversation.

Natural light, considered interiors and uninterrupted views create an atmosphere that supports both productivity and wellbeing.

For the duration of your time here, the house is yours — offering privacy, flexibility and a level of exclusivity rarely found in traditional venues.

THE BOATHOUSE

SURROUNDED BY NATURAL BEAUTY

For smaller, more focused gatherings, the Boathouse offers a private setting on the edge of the lake. Tucked within woodland, it provides a sense of quiet separation — a place to step away and think clearly.

Natural materials and soft textures create a calm interior, while doors open onto a lakeside terrace and private jetty, allowing an easy flow between inside and out.

With its own kitchen and dining space, the Boathouse supports both structured sessions and more informal conversation, with direct access to the estate for foraging, walks and outdoor discussion.

Ideal for leadership groups, strategy sessions and smaller off-sites.

BEYOND THE MEETING

WHERE IDEAS CONTINUE TO EVOLVE

At Ewhurst, the most valuable moments often happen outside the meeting itself.

Step beyond the house and into a landscape designed to restore attention and energy. Walking discussions across open fields, informal conversations by the lake, or quiet time in nature all contribute to more thoughtful outcomes.

The change of environment encourages fresh perspective — helping teams reset, refocus and return to work with renewed clarity.
